13 MILK FIRMS ORDERED TO INSTALL PASTEURIZERS

Assistant Health Commissioner Also to Indicate Other Conditions He Says Must Be Corrected.

NOTICE AFFECTS ONLY SMALL DEALERS

Methods Employed at the St. Louis Dairy Co. Criticized as "Not the Best" by City Inspector.

Thirteen owners of dairies and plants distributing milk to St. Louis households were notified today by Assistant Health Commissioner Jordan that they can no longer serve milk in St. Louis unless they install proper pasteurizers.

Dr. Jordan said today that if the order was not obeyed and if other conditions which he would indicate to the owners were not corrected, he would recommend to the Board of Public Service that their permits be revoked.

The dairies and milk plants notified were the following: Martin Amelin, 1231 Arsenal street; Peter Mankin, 712 Biddle street; Herman Dule, 2440 De Kalb street; Sam Schvack, 2941 Dayton street; Joseph Biondo, 1210 North Eighth street; George Geders, 207 Kosciuszko street; J. Weinhardt, 2417 Lempi avenue; Raskas Bros., 1311 North Newstead avenue; J. H. Schultz, 3326 Oregon avenue; Mrs. George Enger, 2829 Oregon avenue; F. E. Hing, 4522 North Newstead avenue; August Wessling, 3907 Illinois avenue, and the Fless Land and Dairy Co., 5922 McKiesock avenue.

The last four dairies named produced milk of their premises and under the ordinance, are permitted to serve that milk unpasteurized, but also have been receiving an additional supply from the outside and serving it unpasteurized. The ordinance specifies that any milk not produced on the premises on which it is bottled must be pasteurized.

Have Special Dispensation. Dr. Jordan said today that the milk plants included in his order had been permitted to bottle milk they did not produce without pasteurization under a ruling of the Board of Public Service that special dispensation could be given where the milk was brought from nearby dairies.

Dr. Jordan said that Director of Public Welfare Schmoll now had authorized the notification that the letter of the ordinance must be obeyed. The health department today submitted to the aldermanic committee investigating milk the recommendations of the department as outlined by Director of Public Welfare Schmoll in a talk before the Citizens' Milk Committee last month and by Health Commissioner Stachelski's recent testimony before the Aldermen. Chief of these are the following:

Creation of a Food, Dairy and Milk Inspection Service as a separate bureau of the Health Department with full supervision over milk and its by-products.

Increase of the force of inspectors to permit the city to inspect farms in Illinois producing milk for Illinois with a view of forbidding St. Louis distributors to receive milk from farms not approved as properly producing and handling milk.

More Chemists Asked For. Increase of the force of the City Chemist to permit more frequent tests of food, milk and milk products.

Issuance of permits for dairy farms or milk plants for the calendar year.

Continuing its search for first-hand information on conditions surrounding the production and delivery of milk, the Committee on Public Welfare of the Board of Aldermen yesterday visited five plants distributing milk and one dairy in which milk is produced. The committee has spent three days since it began its inquiry into the quality and fairness of price of milk, in visiting plants and dairies.

The committee went first yesterday to the plant of the St. Louis Dairy Co., 2003 Pine street, because of the testimony before it on Tuesday night of Robert L. Kayser, general manager of the dairy, that his company did not know whether the milk it distributes is from tubercle-infected cows, and that the only protection against tubercular milk is pasteurization. City Chemist Buckland has said that proper pasteurization will kill tubercular bacteria in milk. The St. Louis milk ordinance requires that all dairy cows within the city shall be tuberculin tested.

Because of Kayser's testimony City Dairy Inspector Rippe was asked to note particularly the pasteurization process at the St. Louis dairy. At the conclusion of the visit he said that the pasteurization process at the St. Louis dairy was not the best. He said that the pasteurization process at the St. Louis dairy was not the best. He said that the pasteurization process at the St. Louis dairy was not the best.

"Toonerville Trolley" Replaces Two-Man Cars on Clayton Line

One-Man Cars Have Bouncing Motion, but Are Commodious, With Seats for 32.

Three one-man trolley cars, in which the motorman acts as fare-collector, have been placed in operation on the Clayton line of the United Railways Co. They run on a 20-minute schedule between the Log Cabin Club neighborhood, which is beyond Clayton, and the Olive-University line crossing on Skinner road.

The new cars are mounted on a single four-wheel truck, and hence are referred to, by some passengers, as "the Toonerville trolley." They run with the pitching and bouncing motion of the cartoon car piloted by Fontaine Fox's famous "skipper," but they are more commodious within, as they have seats for 32 passengers.

Like the Toonerville trolley, the Clayton cars "meet all the trains," both passenger and freight, on the Rock Island line crossing on Skinner road. They do not go over the grade crossing, as a one-man car cannot comply with the requirement that one member of the crew shall get off and signal, while the other runs the car. The two-man cars of the Clayton line, which were run until yesterday, started from the De Baliviere sheds.

The new cars transfer to the northbound cars of the City Limits line, and the southbound City Limits cars transfer to them, so that the passenger can go from Clayton to Weston on one fare.

The United Railways has placed two of the one-man cars in use on the Jefferson Barracks line, two on the Florissant line, two on the Page avenue (county) line, one on the Brentwood line, and two each on the Marcus and Spalding lines, in the city.

NEW JERSEY AND PENNSYLVANIA TOWNS MYSTERIOUSLY SHAKEN

Foundations of Houses Loosened, Pictures Knocked From Walls, but No Loss of Life.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27.—The public was still mystified early today concerning the shock that may have been caused by an earthquake which was felt last night in Central and Southern New Jersey and in Eastern Pennsylvania.

The shock was distinctly felt in Philadelphia. Guards declared that the city hall building shook and tremors were distinctly felt in other buildings.

The earthquake, if it was such, extended as far north in New Jersey as Trenton and as far east as Mount Holly. Foundations of houses were damaged at Haddon Heights, N. J. Many other New Jersey towns reported having felt it.

Along the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad the occurrence caused much excitement, particularly at Pottsville, where pictures were knocked from the walls of the Merion Community House.

Scientists at Swarthmore College maintained that the shock could not have been caused by a tremor, as their delicately adjusted instruments could not have failed to register such a disturbance. They insisted an explosion must have been the cause. Washington scientists attributed the disturbances to shifting of sands.

FOREST PARK ZOO TO ASK PAPUA FOR TWO BIRDS OF PARADISE

The Governor of Papua, New Guinea, will be requested to issue a permit for the trapping of a pair of birds of paradise for the Forest Park Zoo.

This course was decided upon today by George P. Wierheller, secretary of the Zoological Board of Control, following receipt of a letter from a dealer in New York that the cheapest birds of paradise obtainable in this country would cost about $1700 each.

SCHMOLL OUT FOR BURKHAM IN MAYORALTY RACE

Director of Public Welfare, Who Recently Broke With Kiel, Says He Is Opposed to the Third Term.

WILLING TO ACCEPT A REAPPOINTMENT

Declares, However, That He Has No Understanding With Candidate He Has Decided to Support.

John Schmoll, Director of Public Welfare, and former chairman of the Republican City Committee, today announced that he would support Robert Burkham for the Republican nomination for Mayor, in the primary March 11.

Schmoll recently broke with Mayor Kiel, following the Mayor's announcement that, in the event of his election for a third term, he would not reappoint Schmoll. This decision, the Mayor said, was reached because of Schmoll's political activity. Schmoll, soon afterward, remained away from the Mayor's New Year reception and announced that he no longer considered Kiel as his friend.

Schmoll, in announcing his intention to support Burkham, said he had no understanding with Burkham as to the matter of his reappointment, in case Burkham should be elected. He said he probably would be willing to accept a reappointment.

The statement prepared by Schmoll is: "I am for Robert Burkham for Mayor. I have known Mr. Burkham for many years, and know him to be a splendid citizen, of high ideals, but easily approachable—a plain man of the people, well qualified for the high position of Mayor. I am unequalled in my ability to lead, and I believe that he will be a splendid citizen, of high ideals, but easily approachable—a plain man of the people, well qualified for the high position of Mayor."

He said that he had no understanding with Burkham as to the matter of his reappointment, in case Burkham should be elected. He said he probably would be willing to accept a reappointment.

Two Republican candidates for the Board of Aldermen filed their candidacies today with the Election Board, making a total of 15 who have filed thus far. No Democrat has filed. The filing time ends Feb. 28, the primary being March 11. Voters of all wards vote for the Aldermen from each ward, both in the primary and in the election April 5.

Fourteen Aldermen, from odd-numbered wards, are to be elected. Max Sigloff of 4027A Lafayette avenue, a lawyer, filed from the Thirtieth Ward, which includes Steinmeyer has filed, and in which the present Alderman, Taylor Wyck, and at least one other, are expected to file.

Grison of 4654 Delmar boulevard, a Deputy Sheriff, filed from the Twenty-third Ward, in which Alderman C. E. Udell has filed for re-election.

Other who have filed recently are Aaron W. Lloyd of 3441 Lawton avenue, State organizer for the Negro Knights of Pythias, Seventeenth Ward; Samuel L. Wimer of 5210 Fairfield avenue, a decorating contractor, Twenty-seventh Ward; and Sylvester A. Nangle of 4618 Enright avenue, an automobile salesman, Twenty-fifth Ward.

Committee Named to Interview Prospective Candidates for Mayor. Sheridan Carlisle, who was one of the local leaders of the Farmers' Workers' party in the campaign last fall, was named as chairman of a committee appointed at a meeting held at the Planters Hotel last night, by about 50 voters of various parties, to interview prospective candidates for Mayor.

The committee was held for the purpose of seeking, as a candidate for Mayor, a man not affiliated with any political machine. Another meeting has been called for next Monday night, in hall at Fourteenth and Benton streets. The members of the committee, besides Carlisle, are Lee Stoltz, Julius Anderson, H. M. J. Hartman and B. F. Kennedy.

Committee to Scan Qualifications of School Board Candidates. A committee of five members of the Republican Citizens' Club has been appointed, with the Rev. John W. MacIvor as chairman, to scan the qualifications of candidates for the Board of Education, and recommend certain ones for the endorsement of the club. It was announced today. ## HARDING AVOIDS SOCIAL AFFAIRS AT WEST PALM BEACH

President-Elect Sidesteps Reception—Large Gallery Follows Him at Golf.

By the Associated Press. WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 27.—Sidestepping many public and social functions proposed for him, at this fashionable winter resort, President-elect Harding divided his short visit here today between a private luncheon and a game of golf.

In pursuance of his determination to get a complete rest before his houseboat cruise down the coast, Mr. Harding not only turned down invitations to participate in a formal luncheon, but made his plans to keep out of sight as much as possible during his call here. Despite the fact that the hour of his arrival was kept confidential, a large gallery gathered at the links to watch his golf match and another crowd lingered from early morning about the pier where it was reported he would disembark from the Victoria.

For luncheon the President-elect accepted an invitation to be the guest of a friend of Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania, who is a member of the houseboat party.

Leaving here late in the afternoon, the Victoria was expected to tie up for the night a short distance to the south and to proceed tomorrow morning for Miami.

AMERICA MUST MAINTAIN ITS NAVY, HARDING ASSERTS

President-Elect Declares Sea Force the Great Wall of the Nation and Guaranty Against Invasion.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—President-elect Harding, in a letter today in the current issue of Our Navy, a periodical edited and published by American naval officers and men, declared that so long as there is need for national defense "we must maintain our navy."

"Our navy is the great wall of America," the President-elect wrote. "I believe that a navy which is almost good enough in the end will prove more costly to the safety of the United States than no navy at all. More and more we are dependent upon the sea. We have learned that in the great war, where so much attention was given to the land fighting, the key to victory during the entire campaign was the conflict won in the naval power of the allies."

"It is the navy which guarantees us against invasion. It is the navy which is essential to the question of our commerce overseas if the need ever comes. We want no navy for conquest. We would all like to reduce armaments, but so long as there is need of a navy to protect our commerce, we must maintain our navy, not only in its material strength, but in the morale and capacity of its officers and men."

LEGISLATION BY SECRET CAUCUS IN STATE SENATE

System Being Used Makes Public Proceedings Little More Than Ratification Meetings and Democratic Minority Is Thus Virtually Eliminated.

PLAN SHOWN ON INCOME TAX BILL

Democrat's Bill Gets to Floor Through Some Slip and Republican Caucus Is Called to Take Control of Such Legislation.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 27.—Legislation by caucus in the Missouri Senate has been established by Lieut. Gov. Lloyd, virtually eliminating the Democratic minority of 15 Senators from participation in legislative matters, making the public proceedings of the Senate little more than ratification meetings to carry out the decisions of the secret caucuses.

From a beginning of caucuses early in the session, to decide party patronage questions and confirmations of appointments, the system has developed into a caucus on the purely legislative matters which have no political connections.

It is the theory of a legislative body that each member has one vote, and that the majority shall rule. In the Missouri Senate, however, the majority is not the majority of the Senate, but the majority of the caucus.

There has not been a time within the memory of those now active in legislative proceedings that the caucus plan has been as extensive as it has been today. Since the opening of the Legislature, Jan. 5, there has rarely been a day without at least one caucus of Republican Senators. On many days there have been two, and on several days three caucuses.

Spectators in Senate. The Democratic minority thought little of the caucuses in the early days of the session, but as the custom for many years for party political questions, such as patronage, the formation of the Senate caucus, and the question of the caucus plan, was not until matters of legislation began going to caucus that the Democrats became uneasy. Now they admit that they are little more than spectators of the Senate proceedings and that their constituents are practically unrepresented.

During the past two days the 19 Republican Senators in caucus have been discussing the question of whether the State income tax should be abolished, reduced or permitted to stand as it was enacted by the Legislature two years ago. There is no question about the income tax, which should be assessed.

Through some slip in the Lloyd organization, a bill cutting the income tax introduced by Senator Bowker of Nevada, a Democrat, was permitted to get out of the Ways and Means Committee to the floor of the Senate for action.

Bowker's Income Tax Bill. When Bowker called up his bill for engrossment, it suddenly dawned on the Republican majority that it was uncertain whether it wanted the income tax reduced. Last year it introduced funds for State revenues of approximately $5,000,000. The reductions proposed by Bowker would cut that amount in half. Five million dollars from one source is a rather sizeable amount for a State administration to have to spend, and there was a scurrying about to delay action until a plan of action could be agreed upon. Bowker, realizing he was outvoted by the Republicans if he insisted upon the bill going to engrossment, consented to a postponement.

A few minutes later, Senator Anderson of St. Louis, caucus chairman, announced a caucus of Republican Senators. The income tax was the subject.

In the caucus it was pointed out that marked reductions in the tax would curtail materially the amount for the State to spend, and that, even if it should be decided eventually that the public demand for the decrease was so strong it must be heeded, the credit for the reduction must not be permitted to go to a Democrat.

At three caucuses the income tax was the subject. The income tax was the subject. The income tax was the subject.

How the Caucus Rule Operates at Jefferson City

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 27. THE exact working of caucus legislation, as established in the State Senate, will be understood from this explanation:

There are 34 members of the Senate, 19 Republicans and 15 Democrats. Under the law, 18 votes are necessary to pass a bill. Usually party lines are not followed on nonpolitical measures. It could easily happen that the general Republican Senators might vote against a bill favored by a majority of the Republicans, and several Democrats vote for a bill opposed by a majority of the Democrats. But 18 votes are necessary to pass a bill. Here is where the caucus comes in. When the caucus takes up a question each person in the caucus agrees to abide by the result of the majority in the caucus. The 19 agree to do as the 10 dictate. Thus 10 Republican Senators can control the Senate action on any bill taken before the caucus, or eight less than the Senate majority required to pass a bill.

Total of Cash and Securities Is About $10,000,000, Greater Than Usual.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Acting Treasurer Allen announced today that a total of $13,883,819.826-2-3 in cash and securities was found in the Treasury as a result of the audit of the accounts of the late John Burke as Treasurer.

This total is about $10,000,000 greater than usual, and is accounted for by approximately that amount of notes deposited by foreign Governments for war loans.

The actual cash on hand at the time of the count was $7,410,233.02. The remainder is in paper currency held in reserve, incomplete currency certificates, incomplete gold certificates and bonds and other securities held in trust.

The last previous count in 1915 showed a grand total of $14,924,422.951-48-2-3, of which the total cash amounted to $1,199,231,911.90.

The present count showed $4,726,559.11 in gold coin, $45,780,572 in standard silver dollars compared with gold coin of $2,995,722.98 and standard silver dollars totaling $156,892,689 in 1915.

No shortage was revealed by the count. Treasurer Allen said the cash and securities being found just as they should be. The count was begun Jan. 6.

The presence of the two-thirds of a cent in the grand total, Treasury officials explained, was caused by one bond of the State of Tennessee for $1,666.66-2-3, held by the Treasury as part of the Indian trust fund derived from the sale of lands to Indians by the Government.

Church Trial Considered For Minister Who Married Dupont Charge Would Be That He Violated Episcopal Canon Against Marrying of Divorced Persons.

By the Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—Trial of the Rev. Baker P. Lee, formerly rector of Christ Church here, before 12 of his peers in the Episcopal Church, on a charge of violation of an ecclesiastical canon in having performed a marriage ceremony for Alfred I. Dupont, millionaire power manufacturer, of Wilmington, Del., and Miss Jessie D. Ball of Los Angeles, was a possibility today, according to church officials.

This resulted from adoption of a resolution at the convention of the diocese of Los Angeles, assuring the Right Rev. Joseph H. Johnson of the support of the convention should he decide, as Bishop of the diocese of Los Angeles, to call Lee for trial.

The charge, it was said, would be violation of canon 42, which forbids performance of the marriage ceremony by an Episcopal clergyman when one of the parties is divorced, and has a former spouse living.

Church officials said they understood Dupont had been divorced and was also a widower from still another marriage. His marriage to Miss Ball took place here last Saturday.

Mr. Lee declared he had been "fully justified" in performing the marriage.

He said he "would fight to a finish" any charges which might be preferred against him, and if he were placed on trial, would file similar charges against Bishop Johnson.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Margaret Sage, widow of Russell Sage, left an estate valued at $58,659,213. This was shown by accounting filed yesterday. Residuary legatees, including 52 religious, charitable and educational institutions, received $15,842,260. A balance of $17,108,677 remains for further distribution under the terms of the will, the accounting showed.

DIFFERENCES OVER REPARATIONS DELAY COUNCIL MEETING

NEGRO TAKEN FROM SHERIFF BY MOB,
BURNED TO DEATH

Alleged Murderer of Arkansas Planter and Daughter Seized in Mississippi and Taken to Scene of Crime.

By the Associated Press. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 27.—Gov. Thomas C. McRae last night characterized the lynching of Henry Lowery, negro, at Nodena, Ark., as the most disgraceful act ever committed in Arkansas and declared that he would recommend to the Legislature that any Sheriff or officer who permits or does not prevent the lynching of persons within his jurisdiction be summarily removed from office.

Gov. McRae said that he asked that Lowery be brought direct to Little Rock from El Paso for safekeeping and that he could not understand why the negro should have been taken by the roundabout way through New Orleans, Mississippi and Tennessee, instead of direct to Texarkana and thence to Little Rock and the State penitentiary.

According to Gov. McRae, Lowery agreed to return to Arkansas on condition that he be given the protection of the law. Such assurance, Gov. McRae said, was given the negro and officers were instructed to bring him to the penitentiary at Little Rock.

Lowery was taken across the river into Arkansas by the group, which earlier had taken him from the officers at Sallis, Miss. The negro was driven to Nodena, where the Craig plantation is, according to information received at Osceola. The mob then took him to the levee near the scene of the crime and driving a stake into the ground, chained the negro and burned him to death. The mob then dispersed.

555 GALLONS OF WHISKY INVOLVED

Second Disclosure of Disappearance of Large Amount of Whisky Here in Two Weeks.

The liquor-selling permit of Lee Levy & Co., former wholesale distributors of whisky at 2016 Market street, has been revoked by Sheriff J. P. Howell, prohibition director for Missouri. The action followed investigation of the sale by the company of its entire stock of whisky, consisting of 555 gallons, last September. The investigation disclosed that the whisky had been disposed of on a permit bearing the forged signature of Charles R. O'Connor, prohibition director of the State of New York.

This is the second time in the last two weeks that it has been disclosed that large quantities of whisky had been obtained here on forged permits from New York. As told exclusively in last Sunday's Post-Dispatch, the Jack Daniel's Distilling Co., on Nov. 25 last, sold 2100 gallons of whisky on an order purporting to have been issued by O'Connor and which the latter has repudiated as a forgery.

The stock of Levy & Co. was sold through a broker on an order from Fred J. Remsen of 75 Vesey street, New York. The whisky was taken from a warehouse at Thirteenth and Maple streets, where it had been transferred from the Market street store of Levy & Co. Prohibition enforcement agents, tracing the withdrawal of the whisky, were unable to find any record of it having been shipped to New York. The revocation of the company's permit was based on the transfer of the whisky from the company's store to the warehouse.

Howell also revoked the liquor permits of five druggists and one wholesale liquor dealer in Kansas City yesterday. Benjamin Portman, the wholesale dealer, lost his permit because 250 gallons of whisky were withdrawn from his warehouse on forged permits. Paul Aronberg, one of the Kansas City druggists, was deprived of his permit because he was alleged to have told two patrolmen on election duty last April where they could obtain whisky.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION BY OWNER OF STORES IN TWO TOWNS

Drop in Cotton Market Given as Reason for Troubles of Merchant at Kennett and Steele, Mo.

The break in the cotton market is given as the reason for a voluntary petition in bankruptcy filed in the Federal Court here today by Joseph Rosenberg of 5661 Waterman avenue, who operates general merchandise stores at Kennett, Mo., and Steele, Mo. His liabilities are listed at $123,466.14 and his assets at $151,800.51.

Rosenberg, the petition states, took cotton from the planters in his vicinity during 1919 and 1920 in exchange for merchandise. During part of this time the cotton market was strong, but it later experienced a terrific drop, and Rosenberg, the petition sets out, was left holding the bag.

He obtained loans totaling $26,839 from two Memphis cotton brokers, securing them with baled cotton. After the drop in the market the cotton was not sufficient security. He states that most of his liabilities are in the form of debts for merchandise. He lists stock on hand to the value of $54,888; $13,200 worth of real estate; $42,000 in accounts due; and $15,255 in notes and securities.

REPORTED EFFORT TO SEIZE BERGDOLL STIRS GERMANS

Six Men Said to Have Tried to Kidnap Draft Evader at Eberbach—Story He Disarmed Detective and Cranked Auto at Same Time.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—The townfolk of Eberbach in Baden are still in the throes of excitement over what the German press captions as "The Wild West in Germany," the alleged attempt to kidnap Grover C. Bergdoll, fugitive American draft evader.

According to the account of an eyewitness, Bergdoll and Stecher, his former chauffeur, who are said to be social lions in their South German sanctuary, were guests at a local wedding Saturday night. About 6 o'clock in the evening Bergdoll, with the bride and bridegroom, motored to the railway station to meet another arriving guest. While Bergdoll stayed behind in the car, the others went to meet the train.

Another motor car in which were six armed men pulled up close behind Bergdoll. The occupants jumped out and surrounded the deserter as the bride and groom and their guests returned. Bergdoll, seeing trouble, told his friends to jump in quickly, but one of the armed men placed a revolver at his breast and exclaimed "Halt, or you'll lose your life."

According to the partisan German account, Bergdoll, with rare presence of mind, knocked the revolver aside with one hand and cranked the car with the other. While he was making shots at the wedding guests, firing shots at the wedding party in the best movie Wild West style. One of the shots struck the guest in the hand.

The noise aroused the natives of the town and reinforced by gendarmes they halted and arrested the occupants of the kidnapping car, who are being held at Eberbach jail, charged with "breach of the peace of the land."

According to the police the kidnappers had crossed the Rhine from the occupied area. It is said that the arrested men are a German chauffeur and three other Germans hired for the occasion in the occupied area, and two American detectives, Carl Neaf and Franz Zimmer of Denver.

The police charge that they had planned to kidnap Bergdoll as occasion offered, and followed the wedding car. It is supposed that they intended to take their prisoner across the Rhine to occupied territory.

Each of the German accomplices was to have received 50,000 marks as his share in the reported $6000 reward. The first reports that the alleged American detectives were military intelligence officers are scouted in official Berlin, and it is not believed that the attempt was made with the knowledge or by the order of American authorities.

Several Days' Watch Reported. The two Americans and four Germans are said to have gone to Eberbach last Saturday in a large touring car from Speyer. They are said to have been armed and to have carried handoffs, and are alleged also to have had with them a bottle containing some unknown fluid. After the arrests some of them are said to have admitted having been in Eberbach for some time shadowing fugitive Americans. They spent money freely while gathering information concerning the movements of Bergdoll and Stecher. The Germans in the party were Gustav Seider, Gottfried Keim, August Farnbach and the driver, named Hildebrand. All four are said to have been living at Eberbach for several months, according to a dispatch to the Tagblatt from Karlsruhe.

Men Arrested.

TWO POLICEMEN SLAIN IN HOTEL IN BELFAST

Sinn Feiner Also Killed in Bed—Believed to Have Been Act of Revenge for First Shootings.

By the Associated Press.

BELFAST, Jan. 27.—Two strangers last evening made inquiry at a hotel near the Belfast police headquarters for three guests. They were shown to the bedroom of the guests, two of whom were shot dead and the third severely wounded. The assassins escaped. The victims have been identified as policemen from county stations brought into the city to give testimony before a military inquiry.

The wounded man is Patrick Gilmore of Cool Mara, County Sligo. Michael Garvey, an ardent Sinn Feiner, was mysteriously killed while in bed this morning. The crime is believed to have been in revenge for the shooting of three policemen last night.

Dublin Hospitals Must Report Progress With Gunshot Wounds.

DUBLIN, Jan. 27.—On pain of prosecution under the restoration of order act, all the Dublin hospitals, public and private, are required to furnish daily to the military authorities the names, addresses and descriptions of all persons admitted suffering from wounds due to gunshot or explosions.

Laurey, one of the most eminent of Irish surgeons, describes the order as "a gross encroachment on a profession which since earliest times has had a definite code that has never been assailed."

The police patrol was ambushed at Trim, County Heath, Tuesday night. The patrol was seriously wounded.

Armed raiders also seized the telephones and the Morse signaling instruments in the Farnham Lighthouse, County Donegal.

He was hurled to the ties, and his skull fractured.

The name appeared on a card in his pocket, and it was said at that address that a boy of that name and description lived there. It was said that he recently had left school and had gone to work at a railroad office. At the latter place no such boy was known.

LIQUOR TO BE SOLD BY GOVERNMENT DEPOTS IN QUEBEC

Only One Bottle at a Time Will Be Sold—Sale in Hotels Restricted.

By the Associated Press.

QUEBEC, Jan. 27.—Plans for reorganization of the liquor traffic in the Province of Quebec under a commission of three men, were outlined yesterday by Provincial Premier Taschereau, at a caucus of Government supporters. The new regulations, he said, would become effective May 1 through an order-in-council.

Liquor will be sold at retail at Government depots, one bottle at a time, the Premier stated. In Montreal there will be one depot for every 50,000 inhabitants, and in Quebec one for every 40,000 persons. Hotels of more than 100 rooms will be permitted to sell wine between 6 a. m. and 9 p. m., with provisions for extension of hours when banquets are to be held. Special provisions will be made for selling liquor in the mining districts. Brewers will be authorized to sell beer to parties licensed by the commission, but must pay a tax of $1000 for every brewing establishment and 5 per cent of their sales each month.

All licensed dealers will be ordered to give a full report of liquor in stock by April 30.

D'Annunzio's Book on Fiume

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Gabriele D'Annunzio indulges in a violent invective against Premier Giolitti of Italy and the Italian Government in his book, "Five Days of Fiume," which has been distributed among members of the Italian Chamber of Deputies, says a London Times dispatch from Rome. The poet-soldier describes himself as "the greatest servant of the fatherland," and justifies the title by the fact that he gave Italy an Alpine frontier and secured for her the eastern provinces of Friuli and Istria. It is said.

The volume contains 100 documents, which are declared not to constitute a defense of the poet's conduct in holding and defending Fiume against Italian Government troops, but show that D'Annunzio first ordered Arditi to fire against the regular soldiers.

KYLE'S PARTNER IN BUSINESS ARRESTED

Loren Williamson Taken on U. S. Warrant Charging Part in Mail Theft.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Jan. 27.—Loren Williamson, 28 years old, business partner of Guy Kyle, former preacher in the Free Methodist Church, was arrested here at 11:30 a. m. today on a Federal warrant charging him with complicity in the theft of $189,000 from a mail wagon in Mount Vernon, Jan. 14. He was taken into custody by a Deputy United States Marshal, who announced that Williamson would be taken to Centralia this afternoon for arraignment before United States Commissioner Grant Feathering.

Kyle yesterday waived preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Hooker at East St. Louis and announced that he had told "the whole story" in connection with the theft to United States District Attorney Burnside. Kyle, ever since his arrest last Friday, in every statement he has made about the theft, has implicated his partner, Williamson. He told a Post-Dispatch reporter in the county jail here last Saturday that the first he saw of the stolen money was when Williamson brought it into the store-room of the Egyptian Auto Parts and Wrecking Co., in which they were joint owners.

Williamson, who turned the stolen money over to postoffice inspectors, saying that he had found it concealed in various parts of the store-room and the warehouse of the automobile establishment, has steadily denied Kyle's story, accusing him of the theft.

When a Deputy United States Marshal returned with Kyle to Mount Vernon today he carried with him a warrant issued last night by District Attorney Burnside against Williamson. The latter expressed surprise when told that he was under arrest. He said that he could not understand why the District Attorney had taken Kyle's word against him in view of the fact that he had turned up the stolen money.

The charge against Kyle and Williamson will be presented to the Federal grand jury at Danville when that body convenes in March. Meanwhile Kyle will be held at Mount Vernon and Williamson at Danville until they furnish bond in the sum of $25,000, that amount having been fixed in Kyle's case and recommended in the case of Williamson. All of the stolen money, with the exception of a few hundred dollars, has been recovered.

ROAD BOND CONFERENCE LEAVES EXPENDITURE TO LEGISLATURE

Special Session to Be Suggested by 200 Persons Who Answered Commercial Club Federation Call.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 27.—The 200 or more persons, mostly men, who came here on call of the Federation of Missouri Commercial Clubs to discuss the expenditure of the $60,000,000 road bond money, today decided to suggest that the entire matter be left to a special session of the Legislature.

The meeting authorized I. R. Kelso, head of the federation, to appoint a committee of 16 to assemble road information to be presented to another State-wide meeting to be held later, at which some sort of road system will be decided upon for recommendation to the Legislature. The meeting will close today.

LEGISLATION NOW BY SECRET CAUCUS IN MISSOURI STATE SENATE

was discussed and yesterday the result of the caucus action appeared on the floor of the Senate when Bowker again called up his bill. Senator Proctor, in accordance with the caucus decision, presented a motion to re-refer the bill to the Ways and Means Committee. Senator Bennett followed with a short speech approving Proctor's motion. Senator Irwin seconded the motion.

In vain Bowker, supported by Senator Buford, minority leader, asked that the bill be left in its position on the calendar. Bowker said he would not again call it up until the Senators had the opportunity they said they wanted to obtain statistics as to the amount of revenue which would be produced under it.

The minority soon realized it was beaten, and the best that could be obtained was an agreement by Senator Gray, President pro tem, that when the Bowker bill, or such bill as the committee might report in its place, was returned to the Senate, it should have the place on the informal calendar held by the original Bowker bill.

The agreement disclosed that the Republican caucus has no intention of letting the Bowker bill come out of the committee unless some future caucus should decide that the policy being played was so obvious that it would defeat its own purpose.

The greatest secrecy prevails at the caucus. Yesterday three stalwart doorkeepers were placed in the corridor outside the office of the Lieutenant-Governor, where the caucus was held, with instructions to keep all persons from within 20 feet of the door. Inside each Senator was sworn, the oath being at least the fourth of its kind since the beginning of the session, that no Senator would reveal anything that took place within.

The extent to which the oath was kept may be realized from the fact that nothing of the proceedings became known except the fact that a general agreement was reached that the exemptions under the income tax should be changed and that the rate of 1 1/2 per cent should not be altered.

While no definite understanding as to the exemptions was reached, the general opinion was that they should be $2000 for unmarried persons and $4000 for married persons. Instead of the $1000 and $2000 exemptions under the present law, there was considerable sentiment in favor of leaving the exemption for unmarried persons at $1000 or at least for not allowing them more than $1000, but that question was left open for a future caucus to decide.

COMMITTEE GIVES SCHWAB CLEAN BILL

Charges of Receiving Money
From Government Untrue,
It Decides.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—With the approval of Chairman Walsh, members of the House committee investigating the Shipping Board, declared in a statement yesterday that they "were satisfied" after hearing all the evidence and examining the documents that the charge that Charles M. Schwab received money from the Government for his personal expenses while serving as war-time director of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, "was not proven and further that it was not true."

The statement was issued by Representative Steele, Democrat of Pennsylvania, after discussion with the other members of testimony relating to the $250,000 voucher. Its issuance in advance of the full report of the committee to Congress was unusual, but members explained that it had been decided to break away from long-established rules on the grounds of fairness to one unjustly accused.

"Committee members were convinced by the testimony," said Representative Connolly, Democrat of Texas, "that Mr. Schwab did not receive a dollar from the United States Shipping Board as compensation or as expenses while serving as Director-General of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, and that no part of the $250,000 voucher of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation was paid by the Shipping Board or the Emergency Fleet Corporation as a part of the cost of ships built for the United States, as intimated."

Col. Abadie, witness in ship inquiry, former St. Louisan.
Col. E. H. Abadie, former General Comptroller of the Shipping Board, whose testimony before the Walsh Congressional Committee, concerning the discovery of a voucher for $250,000 alleged to cover personal expenses of Charles M. Schwab for October, 1918, when Schwab was a member of the Shipping Board, has been mentioned in news dispatches, is a former St. Louisan. He was head of the Abadie Construction Co. in the Victoria Building, and supervised the construction of several large light and power plants here. He kept in touch with his St. Louis interests until about eight months ago when he announced that important business in connection with Shipping Board affairs would keep him in the East for an indefinite period. He is a member of the Engineers' Club and the American Institute of Civil Engineers.

ARMY SUGAR INQUIRY BEGINS

48,000,000 Pounds Turned Over to Equalization Board in 1919.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Investigation of War Department transactions in sugar was begun yesterday by the Graham-Walsh Expenditures Committee. Major-General H. L. Rogers, Quartermaster's Department, said that about 48,000,000 pounds was turned over to the Sugar Equalization Board in 1919 at a fraction over 8 cents a pound, and W. O. Watta, formerly of the department, testified that this sugar was later sold to wholesale grocers and jobbers at that figure for distribution among candy manufacturers, drug makers and others. None of it, Watta said, went direct to consumers.

CRUSHING DEFEAT FOR FOCH--AT DOMINOES

Marshal, However Has Partner,
President Millerand, to Share in Blame.

Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.
PARIS, Jan. 26.—Marshal Foch, whose strategy confounded the Germans, suffered a crushing defeat the other day. President Millerand of France shared the blame, for they were partners.
It was not at war, but at dominoes. The American Ambassador, Hugh C. Wallace, and former President Poincare triumphed over the great Marshal and France's chief executive. The incident is related by a writer of the Crie de Paris in the best of French journalistic style, substantially as follows:
The presidential train carrying high personages of France and other nations to Verdun to attend the dedication of the monument marking the Bayonet Trench had been under way for an hour and conversation had begun to lag.

"If we had a game of dominoes," exclaimed Marshal Foch.
Alas! The box of dominoes of the Elysee had been forgotten; and there were no dominoes in the restaurant.
"We must get some for the return journey," declared M. Millerand, who entrusted this important mission to his son, Jean.
When after the ceremony they rejoined the train for the return journey a magnificent box of dominoes was spread out on the table of the saloon car. It had been borrowed from a Colonel of the gendarmes. Two camps were immediately formed. The President had the Marshal for partner. Their adversaries were M. Poincare and Hugh C. Wallace.

"Are we strong enough?" M. Poincare asked the Ambassador. "The President and the Marshal are crack players."
"We, too, I hope," replied Mr. Wallace, smiling.
"Hm!" questioned M. Poincare. "You, certainly."
The first game began. It went in favor of M. Millerand and Marshal Foch.
"I knew it," sighed M. Poincare. "Let us see how it goes in the second game," responded Mr. Wallace. "Never despairing."
The second game commenced. It was a surprise. The Poincare-Wallace side gained a sweeping victory over the Millerand-Foch side.
"Let us have a revenge," the Marshal declared impetuously. "We cannot, Mr. President, allow ourselves such a defeat."
The revenge was palpitating, but in the end the game, which for a long time swayed in the balance, pronounced itself in favor of M. Poincare and Wallace.

"Well, Mr. Marshal, you are beaten," M. Millerand said.
"It seems to me, Mr. President, that you are, too," rejoined the Marshal. "But what adversaries! M. Poincare plays very well and the Ambassador is a champion player."

55 PER CENT OF PRESIDENTS HAVE BEEN COLLEGE GRADUATES

54 Per Cent of Senators Have Been Professor's Figures.

By the Associated Press.
VALPARAISO, Ind., Jan. 27.—Thirty-six per cent of the members of Congress, 55 per cent of the Presidents of the United States, and 54 per cent of the Vice Presidents have been college graduates, according to an announcement made by Dr. G. Borst, dean of education of the Valparaiso University.
Dr. Borst also made the statement that there is only 1 per cent of college graduates in our male population of graduate age.
"Nearly 55 per cent of all Cabinet members, 69 per cent of the Justices of the Supreme Court and 85 per cent of the Chief Justices have also been furnished from this 1 per cent," said Dr. Borst.

WILLIAM JAMES' LETTER TO HIS DYING FATHER

Farewell Message Written by Professor in London When He Heard Parent Was Very Low.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BOSTON, Jan. 26.—The following remarkable letter of farewell to his father, written by Prof. William James, from London in 1882 when he was 40 years old and had received word his father was dangerously ill, is contained in the "Letters of William James," published by the Atlantic Monthly Press:

"We have been so long accustomed to the hypothesis of your being taken away from us, especially during the last 10 months, that the thought that this may be your last illness conveys no very sudden shock. You are old enough, you've given your measure to the world in many ways and will not be forgotten; you are here left alone, and on the other side, let us hope, and pray, dear, dear old mother is waiting for you to join her. If you go it will not be an inharmonious thing. Only, if you are still in possession of your normal consciousness, I should like to see you once again before we part. I stayed here only in obedience to the last telegram, and am waiting now for Harry (Henry James), who knows the exact state of my mind, and who will know yours, to telegraph again what I shall do.

Tenderest Memories.
"Meanwhile, my blessed old father, I scribble this line (which may reach you, though I should come too late) just to tell you how full of the tenderest memories and feelings about you my heart has for the last few days been filled. In that mysterious gift of the past, into which the present will soon fall and go back and back, yours is still for me the central figure. All my collected life I derive from you; and though we have often seemed at odds in the expression thereof, I'm sure there's a harmony somewhere and that our strivings will combine. What my debt to you is goes beyond all my power of estimating—so early, so penetrating and so constant has been the influence.

"You need be in no anxiety about your literary remains. I will see them well taken care of, and that your words shall not suffer from being concealed. At Paris I heard that Mitsard, whose name you may remember in the Revue des Deux Mondes and elsewhere, was an admirer of the 'Secret of Swedenborg,' and Hodgson told me your last book had deeply impressed him. So will it be; especially, I think if a collection of extracts from your various writings were published, after the manner of the extracts from Carlyle, Ruskin & Co. I have long thought that such a volume would be the best monument to you.

Common Sacred Memory.
"As for us, we shall live on, each in his way—feeling somewhat unprotected, old as we are, for the absence of the parental bosoms as a refuge, but holding fast together in that common sacred memory. We will stand by each other and by Alice, try to transmit the torch in our offspring as you did in us, and when the time comes for being gathered in, I pray we may, if not all, some at least, be as ripe as you.

"As for myself, I know what trouble I've given you at various times through my peculiarities; and as my own boys grow up I shall learn more and more of the kind of trial you had to overcome in superintending the development of a creature different from yourself, for whom you felt responsible. I say this merely to show how my sympathy with you is likely to grow much livelier, rather than to fade—and not for the sake of regrets.

"As for the other side, and mother, and our all possibly meeting, I can't say anything. More than ever at this moment do I feel that if that were true all would be solved and justified. And it comes strangely over me in bidding you good-by how a life is but a day and expresses mainly but a single note. It is so much like the act of bidding an ordinary good-night.

"Good-night, my sacred old father! If I don't see you again—farewell! a blessed farewell. YOUR WILLIAM."

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping in the "briars" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dull brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. They're the best.

ROBBED THREE TIMES IN NIGHT BY ACQUAINTANCE

Man Loses Garage Key in Hold-up, Coupe Then Stolen and Used in Second Holdup.

In a variety of thefts last night,
that in which Leo Unterberger of 4274 West Belle place, whose automobile and watch were stolen, stands out as most audacious.

An acquaintance of Unterberger's held him up at the point of a revolver and took his garage key in a saloon at Twenty-first street and Franklin avenue, and then went to the garage, near Twentieth and Lucas, and took Unterberger's coupe.
Two hours later, while Unterberger was looking for his car, two men, one of them the acquaintance who took the garage key, jumped out of the stolen coupe at Franklin and Compton avenues and robbed Unterberger of his watch, and then stepped into the coupe and drove away.

Two armed highwaymen at 11:30 o'clock robbed Earl Montgomery, 19 years old, of 1602 Market street, of $4 at Twenty-third and Howard streets.

At 7 o'clock a woman telephoned the Washington Pharmacy at 238 Skinker Road to send a brick of ice cream and change for a $20 bill to a house in the 6100 block on Waterman avenue. Joseph Marston, proprietor, sent the ice cream and change by a messenger, who returned with a sealed envelope which contained a newspaper clipping. He explained that a woman met him on the porch, took the cream and change and gave him the envelope, in which she said she had inclosed the $20 bill so he would not lose it. It was later ascertained that the house was vacant.

Finishes His Nap at Police Station.

A police Sergeant and two patrolmen at 9 o'clock found three 100-pound sacks of flour on the sidewalk in front of the Hunkins-Willis Lame and Cement Co., and a rope with which the sacks had been lowered dangling from a second-story window. Next door is the Glenview Flour Co., 1703 Austin street. In the rear of the Hunkins-Willis Co. they found an open window and entered, ascending to the roof, where they found a negro feigning sleep. He was George Washington, 39, 1504 Gratiot street, who declared he knew nothing of the flour, and had just "dropped on the roof for a little nap." George resumed his nap at the police station, where it was warmer.

A sneak thief, who probably used a duplicate key, stole a tuxedo suit from room 707 at Planters Hotel and a handbag from room 640 some time yesterday afternoon.

Two Homes Ransacked.

Burglars last night robbed the home of Fred Smith, 5923 Ridge avenue, of $65 and clothing and jewelry valued at $175. The home of Edward Eppner, 1009 Veronica avenue, was ransacked, but the family is away and the loss could not be ascertained.

At 2 o'clock this morning Mrs.
Mary Werlich, 2023 Dolman street, was awakened by the glare of a flashlight and the intruder fled.
Harry Owens, 22 years old, of the Bluegrass Hotel, 4040 Olive street, a salesman, ate at a restaurant at 2:30 o'clock this morning at 604 Market street and had no money to pay.
Police were called and Owens explained that when he left the hotel he had two $50 bills concealed in his shoes and visited a few "soft drink stands." After eating he missed the money. He left his watch as security for the meal.

TWO ACQUITTED OF BURGLARY

Men Had Been Accused in Edwardsville Case.

Fred Zercher and Mike Kurant were found not guilty in the Circuit Court at Edwardsville yesterday on an indictment charging burglary and larceny in connection with robbery of the home of J. Allen, a Troy (Ill.)
merchant, on Nov. 30 last.

They still face a charge of highway robbery in connection with the loss of $700 by Allen's son, Samuel Allen, who was accosted while on the way home.

ROSE PASTOR STOKES APPEARS IN A PLAY

Socialist Worker Has Leading Role in 'King Arthur's Socks'; Audience of Tailors and Wives.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Rose Pastor Stokes, Socialist and radical, essayed a new role when she appeared in the makeup of the modern drama and played the leading role in "King Arthur's Socks." The leading woman described the playlet as a "foolish little cross section of bourgeois life," her description suggesting an apology for it not being about the workingman. The play was given at Manhattan Lyceum.

The audience was limited to tailors and cutters and their wives. Children were to have been excluded, but a man edged their way in, being permitted to do so, perhaps, because the rain kept away many of the special guests who are members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, and who have been on a strike for several weeks.

It is two years since Mrs. Stokes has addressed comrades and fellow workers in public, and this occasion was not to be overlooked. By special arrangement with the management she was billed for a solo curtain raiser.

Tells of Her Part.
Wearing a pink chiffon afternoon dress over which she had thrown a big fur coat—the temperature of the hall being just below that of outdoor—and with one of King Arthur's silk socks in one hand and a darning needle in the other, she stepped in front of the curtain. "I could not resist this opportunity to talk to you," she began when the applause subsided. "This is a foolish little bit of comedy of the bourgeoisie, but I think you will enjoy it. I have not been identified with the bourgeoisie; I have fought with the common people all my life and with all my heart, and I hope successfully."

"I, too, have written plays. Some of my plays have been produced; some are still on the shelf, and one is to be translated into Yiddish and produced at the Yiddish Theater. I belong to a club—the Civic Club—which is interested in the workingman's problems of today. The Civic Club has many radical members of all shades of radicalism, and there are a few communists. The Civic Club suggested this play."

"It strikes me as funny that I, who have been in every strike for the last 15 years, should be asked to entertain you this afternoon. I am more used to talking to you. So I asked to be permitted a few minutes to tell you about Russia and the other countries."

Mrs. Stokes told of rapid strides she said, the Russian farmers were making in art, science and culture, and she predicted that when the people of Germany, France, Italy, Austria and the other countries revolt, as the Russians did, there would be a blossoming of the soul of the common people. "Here we can do little as yet," she said, "but there is a glimmering of light ahead."

Dream of a Theater.
"It has been my dream to organize the proletarian theater. I started two years ago at the Rand School, but gave it up. I am hoping that with the spread of consciousness of the working people and the revolutionizing of the masses we will be able to offer plays that expose the bourgeoisie."

The playlet was a mild sex drama with only one kiss and a good deal of darning and conversation. Two young women, an artist, Vivien Smith, played by Mary Evelyn Hitchcock, and the maid, Mary, played by Alma Weiss, were in love with Lancelot Jones, an artist, living at Camelot Me. This part was taken by Harry Merrill Hitchcock, Georgeanne Smith (Rose Pastor Stokes), wife of a professor of psychology, had a notion that she, too, was in love with Lancelot. She would have eloped with him on the spot, deserting husband and socks, if Lancelot had kissed her more spontaneously. Instead she sent him away to pack his trunk and elope with Vivien.

Italy Recognizes Mexico.
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 27.—Italy yesterday extended formal recognition to the Mexican Government when the Italian Legation delivered to the Foreign Office an autograph letter from King Victor Emmanuel. Gen. Giuseppe Garibaldi, who arrived in Mexico City last Monday on what was described as a special mission from the Italian Government to Mexico, will be received by President Obregon this week.

275 BARRELS OF MASH SEIZED AT TWO RESIDENCES

Detectives, on Tip, Raid 5208 Genevieve Avenue, Finding 100 Barrels, and Then Go Next Door.

EXTINGUISHING OF LIGHT LEADS TO STILL

Investigation of Sudden Darkening Results in Finding of 175 Barrels—Four Men in First Place.

A seizure of 275 barrels of corn mash, ready for conversion into whisky, was made by detectives of the police clean-up squad last night in residences at 5208 and 5209 Genevieve avenue.

Members of the squad had received information that whisky was being made at 5208 Genevieve avenue, the home of Lazzaro Frasca. Detective Sergeant Collard and three men raided the house at 8:15 p. m. In the basement they found Frasca and John Santori, a roomer, and two men who said they were Louis Viviano, 1427 North Eighth street, and Mariano Rocco, 1425 Biddle street. In the same basement room a still was in full operation. The detectives remained there while one gallon of whisky was made by the still. In the basement they also found 50 barrels of corn mash. In other rooms they found 50 more barrels of mash.

Second Still Next Door.

Sergeant Collard seized the liquor and arrested the men and left two detectives to guard the still and the mash. These detectives noticed that a light which had been burning in the house at 5206 Genevieve avenue, next door, had been suddenly extinguished about the time the raid was made on 5208.

They went there and found the front door open. There was a bed which apparently had been recently occupied, but no one was in the house. In the cellar and in rooms on the first floor they found 175 barrels of mash. There was a still, not in operation, in the basement. The detectives reported they were unable to learn who lived at the second house raided.

On the strength of an anonymous letter which said a man was "getting rich" making and selling whisky at 2517A North Broadway, Detective Sergeant Kelly and two detectives went there at 3:30 p. m. yesterday. They first searched a large new automobile in a garage back of the house and then went to the rooms of its owner, Lazar Cazuc, on the second floor. In the parlor they found a still in operation, three gallons of whisky and 200 gallons of raisin mash.

Offer of Bribe Reported.

The detectives reported that while the detectives were inspecting the plant Cazuc called Sergeant Kelly aside and said: "If you let me go I'll give you $50, all the whisky you can carry away and drinks any time you come here."

"Where's the money?" said Kelly. Cazuc, according to the detectives' report, sent his wife from the room and she returned with $50 in bills, which Cazuc handed to Kelly, who then arrested him.

Carl Preissle, bartender in a saloon at 900 Chestnut street; Charles Henry, proprietor of a saloon at 321 Olive street, and Ben de Rosa, a bartender at 1218 Biddle street, were arrested yesterday after policemen had found whisky on the premises.

SHUBERTS UNDECIDED AS TO SITE FOR NEW ST. LOUIS THEATER

Announce, However, New Vandeville House Will Be Ready to Open in September.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Sam S. and Lee Shubert are not yet ready to make any detailed announcement as to the location of the new vaudeville house in St. Louis, because no detail plan has yet been adopted.

"All we can definitely say," said Lee Shubert to the Post-Dispatch today, "is that we will have a first-class vaudeville house in St. Louis ready to open in September. We cannot say yet just where it will be because we have not decided. We have four or five propositions under consideration, sites and existing theaters we might acquire. We are proceeding with all possible speed, and as soon as a definite conclusion is reached we will tell the St. Louis people all about it."

"We haven't given a thought to a new theater to take the place of the Shubert-Jefferson when our lease on that house runs out. It has five more years to go and we have plenty of time for that. When all our plans for St. Louis are ready, I am sure the people of the city will be pleased."

—An Acknowledgment

The Entire Gross Receipts for the Two Shows today at the Gayety Theater will be donated to the Starvation Club of New York City which is an Association of Actors and Actresses, Musical Comedy Favorites, Vaudeville and Theatrical Stars Who Play Exclusively for the Columbia Amusement Company of New York and Who Announce in this City only at the GAYETY THEATER. "It matters not the place, on sea or land. How taken or given, and or gay. For all we can hold in our cold, dead hand is what we have given away."

ILLINOIS TAKING RAPID STEPS IN ROAD BUILDING

Much Accomplished in Last Four Years, State Highway Report Says.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 27.—
More progress has been made in the direction of better roads in Illinois during the past four years than in all the previous history of the State, the State division of highways declares in its annual report. This claim is made not only for construction of durable roads, but more emphatically for the attitude of the people toward road improvement, and the foundation which has been laid for the improvement, not only of the main roads, but of all the roads of the State.

Reviewing the accomplishments of its administration, the department says:
"Among the first road acts passed by the Fifth General Assembly was the law appropriating $1,500,000 to meet the allotment of Illinois under the Federal road act, and authorizing the co-operation of the states in the construction of Federal aid roads."

"Following this appropriation came the passage of the State wide bond issue act, submitting to the voters the proposition of a $50,000,000 bond issue. Proceeds were to be used in the construction of durable hard-surfaced roads upon a system of approximately 4800 miles designated by the Legislature. This was the largest bond issue for road improvement in the history of the State up to that time; it was the first submitted in the Central West for the improvement of a State system of main highways."

"The approval of the issue not only started Illinois in the right direction, but encouraged other states to pass similar measures. Since that time, 18 states, many of them following the Illinois plan, have voted bond issues varying from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000."

"The Fifty-first General Assembly carried on the work begun by the Fifth General Assembly in regard to Federal aid by voting $14,000,000 to meet Federal allotments of $12,000,000, making a total of $15,000,000."

"The administration followed a thorough going business policy in the expenditure of the road funds. In 1919 the Governor decided to proceed with the work of road building until satisfactory prices could be secured. In 1920, when faced by prices greatly in excess of the average cost of the 1919 contracts and also with a shortage of transportation facilities, which would greatly impede the work, it was decided to confine the letting of additional pavement contracts only to those sections where gaps existed on the Federal system."

"The wisdom of this policy has been completely demonstrated by the conditions which have prevailed throughout the 1929 construction season. It was also decided to proceed with the letting of contracts for heavy grading and bridges where necessary to do this work a year or so in advance of building the road surface."

Chief Weakness, It Says, Is Her Inability to Arrest the Outflow of Paper Money.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—In an official report to the Board of Trade from the British embassy in Berlin on the industrial and economic situation in Germany, Secretary Thelwall declared that, reviewing the last two years, it was impossible not to be struck by the evidences of improvement in all departments of public and private life, with the important exception of state finance. Germany's chief weakness, he says, is her inability to arrest the outflow of paper money, and if ultimate financial collapse is to be avoided, the question arises as to how she can be saved. The time has passed when an international loan or credit would suffice.

Secretary Thelwall thinks the Government's authority has steadily increased, and that the Socialists are a greater element of strength outside than inside the Cabinet.
"It is impossible not to admire the skill with which traders and manufacturers have not only survived the trying times, violent fluctuations and disturbances, but have done good business, despite them," continues the report. "The outstanding feature in 1929 was the establishment of combines and co-operation with foreign groups of capitalists. The inclination to create syn-dicates, already marked before the war, has during the past two years spread to every branch of industry and trade."
Remarking that it is impossible to estimate the extent to which Germany is restoring foreign trade while she refuses to publish official trade figures, the report says: "It cannot be doubted that German competition will be found and must be reckoned with from South America to Japan."

Former Choir Singer Dies.
Miss Ada Branson, 69 years old, formerly a choir and opera singer here, died of paralysis Tuesday at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Josephine Boul, at Edgemoor. The funeral was today at Calvary Cemetery. Miss Branson formerly sang at the First Presbyterian Church and the Church of the Messiah. She also sang in opera at Uthig's Cafe, where the Coliseum now stands. Miss Branson's brother, Phil Branson, who also sang at Uthig's, attended the funeral, having come from his home at Ridgeland Park, N. J.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 21.—With the introduction yesterday in the Senate of a bill authorizing the purchase of 1100 acres of land at the Ha Ha Tonka in Camden County for a State park, the Legislature formally received for consideration the first of several park proposals.

The Ha Ha Tonka proposition, which was rejected in a changed form by Gov. Gardner shortly before he retired from office, seemingly is less favorably considered by members of the Legislature than it was several months ago, a situation due largely to the system followed by its promoters in attempting to sell it to the State.

When first offered to the State, the tract consisted of 1400 acres, which was priced at $100,000. Investigation showed that the promoters were retaining for themselves a tract of 10 acres in the most desirable part, and that the tract was of irregular shape. Since its rejection by Gov. Gardner, the tract has been enlarged by options obtained by the promoters on 250 additional acres. Originally the tract was not one connected whole. The gap has been closed by the options.

Legislators Inspect Tract. A week ago a number of members of the House were taken to Ha Ha Tonka by L. B. Dunlap of Kansas City, representing the owners. Little provision had been made for their comfort while at the park and they returned with many complaints regarding the hardships to which they were subjected. While praising the beauty of the property, many of them were not enthusiastic about the plan of purchase suggested.

It is probable that if Ha Ha Tonka should be decided upon for a park, the Dunlap proposition will be rejected and the Legislature will pass an act authorizing the institution of condemnation proceedings to obtain it. Several members have expressed the opinion that a disinterested board of appraisers would fix the price at considerably less than $100,000 and that by that plan the State would avoid the payment of a real estate commission in the purchase price.

While the Ha Ha Tonka tract has been the most advertised, members of the Legislature have received suggestions of several other properties for a park.

One of these is a tract of 10,000 acres in Reynolds and Wayne counties. It is represented to be a wild, hilly tract, particularly adapted for a game preserve. The Black River flows through it. It contains a number of large springs of water. It can be purchased for $7.50 an acre, while the price asked for the Ha Ha Tonka land is approximately $32 an acre.

Another tract being offered the State consists of 4700 acres on the Meramec River in Franklin County. It has many beautiful caves, springs and beautiful stretches of river and contains within its borders a valuable water power site.

MAN CAUSES ARREST OF REALTY DEALER IN TRADE FOR LAND

A warrant charging obtaining land by false pretenses was issued today against Frederick J. Stoltz, 47 years old, of 4237 McPherson avenue, a real estate dealer following his arrest at 5:15 p. m. yesterday in his office, 404 Pontiac Building.

John Parko of 1813 South Tenth street complained to Assistant Circuit Attorney Schweitzer yesterday that on August 1, 1919, he and his wife traded their interest in some

RECTOR OF TRINITY IS ELECTED BISHOP

Dr. Manning Is Chosen to Head
New York Diocese in Exciting Convention.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity parish, reputed the wealthiest in the country, was elected Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York yesterday in one of the most exciting election conventions in the history of the church here. He will succeed the late Bishop Charles Sumner Church.

It took three ballots to elect Dr. Manning, with what threatened to become a triangular deadlock suddenly dispelled by withdrawal from the contest of the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Struss, rector of St. Thomas Church here.

Much of pre-convention opposition to election of Dr. Manning arose by reason of his British birth, a number of clergymen and some newspaper men having voiced a desire to have an American-born executive at the head of the New York diocese. On the convention floor, however, no mention was made of this fact except by those speakers supporting the Manning candidacy who expressed their resentment that the issue was raised.

BOTTLES IN AUTO IN COLLISION

Contents Smell Like Homemade Beer and Whisky to Policeman.

Chester O. Miller, 48 years old, of 2178 Shaw avenue, driving his automobile east on Delmar boulevard at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, collided with the rear of an automobile driven by Mrs. Burton Bollinger of 448 East Lockwood avenue, Webster Groves, at a point about 100 feet west of Rosedale avenue. Mrs. Bollinger's car was damaged.

A policeman investigating the accident found a basket containing nine pint bottles in Miller's automobile, the contents of eight of the bottles bearing an odor of homemade beer and the contents of the other bottle looking and smelling like whisky. Miller was taken to the Page Boulevard Police Station. He was released on bond.

31 POSTER ADVERTISING OFFICIALS INDICTED

St. Louisan One of Those Accused of Violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Indictments, charging violation of the Sherman antitrust law, against 31 officials of the Poster Advertising Co. of Chicago and the Poster Advertising Association, with central offices in New York, were returned by the Federal grand jury today before Federal Judge Carpenter.

The companies are charged with having "worked together" to obtain leases on all suitable billboards in towns in which the population is more than 2500. The companies operated throughout the United States.

Illegal Practices Charged.
It is alleged that the companies used "unfair, tortious and unlawful methods" in excluding from these towns their competitors in the poster advertising field.

The indictments name the president and secretary-treasurer of each company and the boards of directors, whose members are scattered throughout the country.

The officials of the Poster Advertising Association named as defendants include:

President, E. C. Cheshire, Norfolk, Va.; Secretary-treasurer, W. W. Bell, Chicago; directors, C. Philley, St. Joseph, Mo.; Milburn Hopson, Dallas, Tex.; J. H. Brinkmeyer, St. Louis, Mo., and W. R. Burnett, Ardmore, Ok.

The officials of the Poster Advertising Co. named, all of New York City, are:

President, Kerwin H. Fulton; secretary and treasurer, Donald G. Ross; directors, Sidney Hamilton, Albert W. Griggs, Martin Fredington and Charles P. Norcross.

Maximum Penalty in Case.
The maximum penalty for conviction under Section 2 of the antitrust act is one year in prison and $5000 fine.

In 1916 Federal Judge Landis ordered that the two companies be dissolved after civil suit had been instituted against the firms in the United States District Courts.

Julius H. Brinkmeyer of 2240 Oregon avenue, president of the St. Louis Poster Advertising Co., could not be reached for a statement when the Post-Dispatch telephoned his home this morning. It was stated that he was out of the city on a business trip and was expected back some time today.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good For Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Set the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Mustard does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Getty massage Mustard in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Use Mustard for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pain and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it then prevents pneumonia).

34 and 60c jars; hospital size $3.00

Don't hide skin trouble—Resinol

Resinol of cosmetics can conceal a ugly skin. They only fill in it pores and make the condition worse. Resinol Soap cleanses the pores, giving them a chance to breathe and throw off impurities. This why when used with Resinol, it makes the skin of embarrassing defects, keeping it so clean and fresh it can hardly help but be beautiful. At all druggists.

MAN, ONCE HELD FOR RANSOM, SHOT IN BACK AT HOME

William Schuler, Contractor, Seriously Wounded by an Unidentified Assailant
Who Escapes.

William Schuler, 33 years old, of 7161A Pennsylvania avenue, a brick-laying and tuck-pointing contractor, is in a serious condition at the city hospital from a wound inflicted at 9:15 o'clock last night at the rear of his home when he was shot in the back, the bullet lodging in his abdomen. His assailant escaped. Last October Schuler reported he had been kidnapped and held prisoner 10 days by two men.

A revolver with a tape-wrapped handle and bearing the number 474-431 was found in the yard about 10 feet from where Schuler fell after being wounded.

Schuler said policemen he was carrying a tape-wrapped handle when he was shot from behind. He said he did not see the person who shot him.

Policeman Hears Shot.
Patrolman Steckman of the Carondelet district reported that he heard a shot and went into the yard of the Schuler home, and found Mrs. Schuler attempting to carry her husband upstairs. She told the policeman she was in the kitchen on the second floor when she heard the shot, and heard her husband fall.

At the city hospital this morning Mrs. Schuler said Schuler left the house to go to a store about 6 p.m. yesterday and a few minutes later he telephoned her that he had seen a man standing in the yard near his workshop. He seemed to attach great importance to this, she said, and advised her to lock the doors. When he returned he told her the man was gone.

Mrs. Schuler on Oct. 6 last, reported to the police that her husband had been missing 24 hours. Later, she reported that she had received a letter from him in which he told her he had been kidnapped, and was being held by two men who demanded $500 ransom. She was directed to leave the money in a certain place on the night of Oct. 13.

A decoy package was placed at the designated place. While the police were watching it Schuler returned home. No one appeared to collect the ransom.

Story of Kidnaping.
Schuler on his return said he was called to an address near Fourteenth and Biddle streets to bid on tuckpointing work but could not find the house. While he was looking for it, he said, a man approached and asked him his business and told him he had some work for him to do. This man, he said, escorted him to a house in the neighborhood where they were joined by another man. Schuler said they beat him, forced him to write the ransom letter to his wife, and kept him locked in the room until Oct. 13 when they put him in an automobile and drove to Grand avenue and Deloit street, where they threw him from the machine. He accompanied policemen to the neighborhood where he said he was kidnapped, but he could not point out the house in which he said he had been held prisoner.

Firemen Carry 12 Down Ladders.
By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 27.—While a huge crowd alternately held its breath and cheered, firemen yesterday carried down over ladders more than a dozen persons who had been trapped in the upper floors of the large Reserve Bank Building, a smoke arising from chemicals in a burning drug stock in the basement. Several of those taken down the ladders were women, and one was seriously injured by smoke and chemicals. None was injured seriously.

Maxims of a Modern Maid

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

THE three A's which are the essential branches of learning in love's school, are Aspiration, Abnegation, and Adoration.

The difference between a sophisticated and an unsophisticated person is that the latter assumes all marriages happy unless proved otherwise, and that the former assumes just the opposite.

It is said to be cheap—but from the reluctance with which the average American does out to his wife words of affection or praise one might guess each syllable made a large-sized dent in his bank account.

A boy may know that he hears man's estate when he is old enough to be presented with neckties for Christmas.

The man who is oftenest late for dinner is the man who is croucheest when dinner is late for him.

One difference between the old-fashioned and the new-fashioned woman is that the former liked dainty bric-a-brac well enough to dust it and the latter doesn't.

When a man looks at a woman's dress frock and shivers, he probably is not thinking, "How immodest!" but rather, "How chilly!"

Artful thought for today: If the true-blue reformers get away with it, the Sunday of the future will be the RAINY Sunday of the present—and every wife and mother knows what that is!

When a woman gets into the habit of imitating tearful Niobe, most men would be only too glad to have her fish the job and turn into a fountain.

Between a man's idea of discretion and that of an ostrich there is practically nothing to choose.

Divorce is the amputation which follows a bad case of matrimonial gangrene.

IN FASHION'S
JEWEL BOX

HOT stuff are the new "fire strings"—so recent they haven't been glimpsed in any shop west of New York. They're necklaces of the most flashing, fiery beauty, especially dazzling when worn at night under crystal beads, and are vivid and sparkling than the reddest of rubies. They are strung in great blazing ropes and worn with all black or all white evening gowns. Long, pendant earrings to match are further suggested, unless you're afraid the ensemble might call out the volunteer fire department.

A thousand dollars for a vanity box was the trifling sale reported by an Eastern jeweler a week or so ago. It was very small, oblong in shape, of black enamel traced with platinum and set with diamonds in star-shaped designs. Lined with gold, it contained the usual paraphernalia of two compact—one of powder and one of rouge, a coin deposit about big enough to hold three dimes, imagine running around with a thousand-dollar vanity and only 30 cents in it!

Manufacturers still vie with each other to produce the world's smallest watch, and there are so many cries of "Here it is!" and "Have it!" that one hardly turns around to look any more. But so far the smallest prize goes to the man who imported a tiny Swiss watch, only half an inch across, and set in a finger ring. They laugh at a woman for counting on her fingers, but soon we may be telling time that way.

Shell is coming down—not in price but in locale. The first step descending from combs and hair ornaments were the shell earrings, long carved, looked quite gypsy-like. And now we have shell bracelets—some of them dark and inset with brilliant, others of light, amber-colored shell mounted on gold. Wear as many on each arm as you can afford.

SERVING BUTTER.

NOTHING is more easily wasted than butter, yet butter is still one of the dearest foods. While we must have it, if only for the children's sake, equally we must not waste a bit of it.

Butter is usually bought for private use in pound packages wrapped in oiled paper, or in tubs or earthen jars of five or 10 pounds. The five-pound tubs are often cheaper, and sometimes just as good, though, of course, they are much less convenient for serving, and the risk of waste is certainly greater.

Whether in package or tub, should be kept in a cool place, but not in the refrigerator. The butter should be served either in a square on a butter dish, with a silver butter knife, or in individual squares with a butter pick.

Tub butter should be made up into butter balls for the table, a half pound or a pound at a time, and the balls should be kept cold in a covered bowl until served. Hardwood paddles, with small grooves, should be soaked in cold salted water. The butter should be roughly shaped into small balls by hand (dip your hands in cold water and eliminate the grease from the work) and then rolled between the paddles into the marked butter ball. Flat pats can be made with a little practice by hand, and are pretty and effective.

Butter rolls or balls should be served on a butter dish with a silver pick, by which the individual serves himself. In hot weather the butter dish should permit drainage, for a small piece of butter, wherever you are, and none of them are ever overcrowded. You can apply to any librarian, or any reading man or woman for that matter, for a list of books that will be real mental food.

You can begin as Lincoln did with the Bible and Shakespeare. You will find the words of the best authors of today in the magazines.

Everywhere about you is an abundance of mental diet if you will make use of it. But be sure you feed your brain something that it can make use of, instead of stuffing it with worthless material out of which it can make nothing.

A carefully selected course of reading will improve any man's intelligence, and ought to improve his capacity for work.

It may not always be easy to take at first. All people are not born with a taste for literature. But the taste can be cultivated, and when your brain has become accustomed to a wholesome diet it will automatically reject trash.

You cannot think without something to think about. And you will have nothing to think about if your brain is starved. Feed it, and feed it well, and you will not only get further in the world, but you will have a far better time while you are getting there.

UNCOMMON SENSE

WHAT DO YOU FEED YOUR BRAIN?

By John Blake.

NO matter how clever or talented you may be, everything that comes out of your brain must first get into it. You may have new thoughts—new ideas. But they are built of old thoughts and old ideas which you have digested and developed.

Your mental output is going to depend on your mental diet. If you read trashy novels, go to trashy plays, and talk to dull and stupid people, you will never do anything worth doing.

Your brain is just as dependent on food for its vigor and health and productiveness as your body is.

Men of genius who have not read many books have produced great works. But the books they read they read thoroughly. Lincoln, with Shakespeare and the Bible as his chief mental diet in youth, got more out of them than most men get out of a library.

Today there is no need for mental starvation. You will find libraries wherever you are, and none of them are ever overcrowded. You can apply to any librarian, or any reading man or woman for that matter, for a list of books that will be real mental food.

You can begin as Lincoln did with the Bible and Shakespeare. You will find the words of the best authors of today in the magazines.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Johnny and Polly Are Still Cold.

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

In passing judgment pray be slow; Things often seem yet are not so.

—Johnny Chuck.

PETER RABBIT knew that he had no business down in Johnny Chuck's house. He had satisfied his curiosity. That is, he had satisfied the curiosity that he had for the house, but he had found that Johnny Chuck was at home, and not only Johnny Chuck, but also Polly Chuck. Therefore, Peter should have turned about and left that night, but he would not. He had a perfect right to have remained there, for he would have known that it was deserted, and a deserted house is free to anyone.

In a way, Peter was disappointed. When he had found what a fine house that was, he had become filled with a great hope that he would find no one in it. He would have liked that fine house for use himself in bad weather. When he had entered he had hoped he would find Johnny Chuck there, for Johnny was an old friend and neighbor. But when he had discovered how fine that house was he had hoped he wouldn't find Johnny. Now that he had found Johnny, the thing for him to do was to leave at once.

But Peter hesitated. Curiosity, that dreadful curiosity, was once more the master of Peter. This sleeping all winter was something Peter couldn't at all understand. He wondered just how sound asleep Johnny was. He wondered if he should wake Johnny up if Johnny would be cross. Then, too, he wanted to know what kind of a bed Johnny had and how much room Johnny had in that bedroom. The

FIRST INSTALLMENT.

IT'S generally considered romantic to be the son of a railroad official. And it is romantic—to nearly everybody but railroad officials and their sons.

"Son," queried R. R. Farr, general manager of the Eastern Railroad, "what's this I hear about you wanting to go out to California to marry that Barrett girl?"

Dick Farr, straight, earnest, just out of college, did not deny it.

"Humph, I have something to say to you," grimly announced his father, ignoring his gold cigar-cutter and biting off the end of his cigar with clean white teeth. "Before I agree to such an important matter as your marriage, you've got to produce a better girl than that. I don't exactly care which one, but she has to pass one specification I hold against her. It isn't her face or her figure or her common sense. Such things help a lot to make a wife, but you can teach them. There's one thing neither you nor I nor anybody else can teach. It's got to be born."

He coughed and waited after this so uncompromisingly that Dick finally felt that he had to speak.

"What might the specification be?"

"That she'd go through hell for you," answered his father crisply. He coughed again—his throaty cough. "The girl you have, son, isn't the girl for you. If she cared a bunch of beets about you, she wouldn't have it out to California, leaving a whole winter and left you here with the blues. I'd rather have her curse and swear, or eat with her knife, or drink out of her coffee saucer, or never have seen the inside of a book in her life."

Dick was only human; but he tried to speak unexcitedly.

"If you feel that way about the girl who is going to be my wife, father, there isn't much use insisting here at all. I might as well start right away, tonight." He hesitated respectfully. "Under those conditions I don't suppose you'll want to make a practical railroad man out of me. Shall I try to get something in California?"

He waited a moment. His father did not answer. Dick bowed and went silently out of the room. An hour later, with two bags in his hands, he halted irresolutely at the open library door.

"Good-by, father," he ventured. "Good-by, son," replied his father. "You are of age. But don't lose sight of the fact that your father and mother."

"You have no right to speak for mother," said Dick in a low voice. "She would tell me to go, if she were here."

"Your mother," returned his father, slowly, "although I wasn't worth it, was willing to go through hell for me. For three years she kept up at 3 o'clock in the morning, packing my lunch and do your baby washing, not to say anything about the washing for herself and me. She darned our stockings and mended our clothing until there were pieces that were mended more than she was. The left-overs from this meal and that, and out of them made some of the best dinners I ever tasted."

"She did without new clothes for herself and saved here and skimped there for three whole years. It must have been hell, but she did it more sweet and gentle than any saint in the catalogue."

He coughed convulsively.

"When a bigger job came my way, money wasn't much use. When I had a bank account to buy her silks and furs and pretty house furnishings and all the nice things I often pack my lunch and do your baby washing, I couldn't buy her anything but flowers."

He coughed again, his throaty cough.

"Do you think, son, I could stand to see anybody not half as good and unselfish as she was take her place in this house and get the benefit of things she never had, when she was the one who went through hell to help me?"

Hard-faced, he turned his face still farther away.

"Goodby!"

Dick, in the doorway, threw off all the doubts that had flocked upon him. He couldn't back down now. He had said he would go. His bags were packed. "You are the kind of girl my mother was," he whispered silently across the continent.

The night from the depot he wired Miss Florence Barrett, Pasadena, that he was coming as fast as steam could take him, that he would get to Los Angeles Tuesday afternoon at 2:31. He was particular to look up the exact time, so she would be at the station to meet him.

But five days afterward, when he stepped out into the dim train-shed in the Southern California city, there wasn't a soul that he knew in sight. Sending his luggage to his hotel in one of the omnipresent hotel busses, he took a taxicab up the long, dark, curving road to Pasadena.

A cocky-looking Japanese manservant told him that Mr. Barrett was not in, but she had left a note for Mr. Farr. Dick tore it open eagerly, while the Japanese watched with keen eyes.

"My Darling Roy: So sorry to disappoint you. But the Dodsons planned this trip on their yacht weeks ago. And I do want to see Alaska. We're leaving tomorrow morning. And, can you imagine, I am not yet half packed!"

"Paul Baister and Bobby Miller are going along. They have been rushing me until I am nearly dead for sleep. But, Dick dear, every time either of them held my hand or kissed me I wished it was you."

"Maybelle was so anxious to stay out here with her and not go back East at all. In the winter we would go to the mountains. I should just love to. Perhaps I shall. I suppose you will have to go right back East. Good-night, my darling, when I shall see you again—if I stay out here, I'll

On being questioned, the rider answered that, sure enough, a man of the name of Walter Whitman was chief day yardmaster here. Dick asked the way to his office. It was part of his plan.

For a full two minutes he stood alongside of the yardmaster's desk, waiting for him to look up. A man of the name of Walter Whitman was chief day yardmaster here. Dick asked the way to his office. It was part of his plan.

He looked back to his desk, ignoring the yellow-and-brown cover of the assistant yardmaster, he found a strikingly different atmosphere. Two or three young fellows in shirt sleeves were bustling copy into canvas-covered books that looked like a bookkeeper's journal. A sturdy, quiet man of 40, with his back turned toward the door, was flitting car tickets into the slatted pigeonholes above his table-decked with an ease and certainty that never missed.

The remarkable thing about this man, Dick noticed in a moment, was his coolness. Although there was a busy air about the place, he went unhurriedly about his work as if he was enjoying every detail of it. At Dick's question, he turned and regarded him with candid eyes.

"Yes, sir," after a moment he declared heartily. "We need a clerk, a bookkeeper for the outboard." His eyes wrinkled with friendly interest. "What schooling have you had?"

Dick thought quickly. He had better play the game right.

"Not very much," he confessed, chucking as he thought of his college sheepskin. "I can read and write pretty decent, and figure a bit."

At the assistant yardmaster's request he gave him painfully studied samples of writing and reading.

"Good enough," said the yardmaster. "I-I forgot to tell you," stammered Dick. "I saw the chief yardmaster a few minutes ago about a job, and he said he had done it all a bum. I don't want to get you into trouble."

"He won't bother us," smiled the assistant cheerfully. "Don't you mind what he said. Sometimes a man forgets for a minute that you can't always tell a lad by the style shirt he has on."

By evening Dick was booking green, white, red, blue and yellow car tickets as if he had done it all his life—the green for empties, the white for loaded cars, the red for stock and "perishable," and the blue and yellow from other roads.

A PLEA OF GUILTY.

French statesmen blame Wild West American films for crime in Paris.

Though Maupassant, Balzac and Anatole France Wrote mostly of blackguards and crooks, Though crime is the basis of half the romance That Frenchmen put into their books, Though gangs of Apaches roam round the Rue, Engaged in their murderous game, The French are all right—if we give them their dues— Our Wild Western films are to blame.

The rascals the suave Monte Cristo pursued Until he had blotted them out, Were all with the loftiest motives imbued, Three jolly good fellows, no doubt, They never were wicked or willful in youth, What gave them their criminal start And made them immoral, unjust and uncouth Were the pictures of William S. Hart.

It seems fairly certain that Charlotte Corday Would not in the blindness of wrath In the folds of her blouse hide a dagger away To puncture Marat in his bath, If she hadn't just happened the evening before, With a couple of young sons couleottes, To see Douglas Fairbanks lay out on the floor A half dozen men in two shots.

The bullets D'Artagnan fought—six at a time— All doubtless grew vicious and mean, Through viewing the riot of carnage and crime On a Western American screen, Our films the French have to evil beguiled; Without them, their leaders agree, They all would be gentle, and childlike and mild— But where would their literature be?
